WHERE WATERS RUN DEEP.

Welcome to a place where waters bless the earth. Percolating through rock for tens of thousands of years. Bubbling forth to form the largest collection of mineral springs in the southern hemisphere. Creating a source of natural abundance and healing. A perfect place for village life to bloom.
The region that centres around Daylesford and the Macedon Ranges has been a gathering place for thousands of years. A sacred place for aboriginal nations since time began. A new home for Swiss Italians arriving in an untamed land from Europe. Now thriving with creative communities, it’s a destination for travellers spoilt for choice. A place to rekindle your passions and revive your spirits.

For more than a century, the area has basked in a worldwide reputation for health and wellbeing. Taking the waters is an age-old tradition that dates back beyond the spectacular spa houses that now grace the twin villages of Hepburn Springs and Daylesford. When the first wave of Swiss Italians flocked to the region in the gold rush days of the 1800s, they chose to protect the waters over sluicing for gold.

It’s their legacy we enjoy today at the historic Hepburn Bathhouse and Spa, and whenever we take time out to return to the source. Stroll by the Lake. Relax in a mineral spa. Then revived and reinvigorated, feast on another product of the region’s life giving waters, fine food and boutique wine.

As you unwind, reflect on the fact that the healing waters all around you rise out of a volcanic basin 450 million years old. And that the water from each spring has acquired its own unique blend of health-giving minerals. Each is free for you to taste and bottle today.

The Daylesford and Macedon Ranges region includes the shires of Hepburn, Hume, Macedon and Moorabool in Central Victoria.
Dotted around the Daylesford and Macedon Ranges region are a host of unique villages and towns. Each rich in the ingredients of thriving village life. Each with its own distinct charm and appeal. All offering refreshing antidotes to city living.

The twin towns of Daylesford and Hepburn Springs are the epicentre of Australia’s spa country. A place blessed with nature’s bounty and a thriving creative community, where every day feels like Saturday.

A visit to Clunes takes you back to the Gold Rush era, where the streetscapes have barely changed since the 1800s.

Creswick offers a first class visitor centre, world class golf and Australia’s only remaining working knitting mill.

Trentham has undergone a culinary revival in recent times with a fabulous bakery and possibly the region’s most stylish wine garden and restaurant stables.

Kyneton’s historic Piper Street is said to have more hatted restaurants than any street in country Australia.

Malsmbury retains an artisan feel, with many National Trust buildings gracing the main street and a bluestone viaduct spanning the Coliban river.

Sunbury is home to the state’s oldest homestead, birthplace of The Ashes and gateway to the Sunbury Wine Region.

Gisborne, the first major town in the region after exiting Melbourne, offers an easy commute to magnificent wineries and the ranges beyond.

A former resort town, Woodend is resplendent with grand guesthouses and gardens. Stop here on the way to nearby Hanging Rock.

Macedon has quaint cafes and restaurants while Mount Macedon is an area of vast garden estates and grand mansions, with stunning views from the peak across the valley towards Port Phillip Bay.

Nestled in the southern foothills of the Macedon Ranges, Riddells Creek is home to two historic railway bridges. You’ll find Romsey on most winery tours of the ranges, its reputation for fine wine growing with the years.

Lancefield is a peaceful little town blessed with wide streets and historic buildings. The nearby Bourke and Wills Track winds past the Cobaw State Forest and some of the region’s best boutique wineries.

At Bacchus Marsh you can taste your way around pick-your-own orchards and market stalls. From here you can explore Werribee Gorge, Lerderderg Gorge, the Brisbane Ranges and Long Forest Nature Reserve.

Gordon is home to the region’s other famous lavender farm, Yuulong Lavender Estate and its own unique Hat Shoppe.

Greendale, once frequented by legendary bushranger Captain Moonlite, is a welcome reminder of quiet country life.

Blackwood is a place to don boots and explore the breathtaking depths of the Lerderderg Gorge. Equally enchanting is the magical Garden of St Erth cocooned in the Wombat State Forest.

And we’ve only just touched the surface...
All enjoyed by a bustling band of chilled-out visitors and laid-back locals. At the foot of the hill stands the Convent Gallery, dedicated to the daily worship of art, jewellery and sculpture.

Daylesford’s twin spa village of Hepburn Springs offers a more understated old-world vibe, delivered at a decidedly relaxed and ambling pace.

That is, despite being famous for its multi-million dollar renovated Hepburn Bathhouse and Spa, the lavish Peppers Springs Retreat and Mineral Spa, and just down the road, Lavandula Swiss Italian Farm with its collection of 1860s stone buildings and fields of fragrant lavender.

All this may seem a world away, but in reality it’s not much more than an hour from Melbourne.

The United States of Daylesford.

Of the cosy little cluster that is Daylesford, Hepburn Springs, Trentham, Creswick and Clunes, the most famous is undoubtedly Daylesford. Sensual, spirited and effortlessly stylish. The jewel in the crown of a region world-famous for its 72 health-giving springs and over 30 spas, wellness retreats and healing centres.

This a place to step out of the everyday and enter another world. Breathe in sweet country air, gaze into starry skies, explore secluded forests, majestic ranges and undulating vine-strung hills.

Discover welcoming pubs, exclusive retreats and charming village streets blending old-world character and contemporary style. Unearth hidden gems and local secrets, and reconnect with yourself in a totally nurturing environment.

Let your cares wash away while you luxuriate in a revitalising massage and spa treatment. Then, fully revived, join the passing parade to engage in a spot of retail therapy and indulged those jaded taste buds...

Stroll down photogenic Vincent Street and you’ll encounter quirky clothing shops, decadent eateries, alongside lofty galleries festooned with original art. You’ll also discover creamy lattes and double espresso shots to rival any Melbourne laneway.

Taking the waters.

In the 1800s, there was one natural resource that took precedence over gold.

Spring water.

It was the mineral springs, as much as the prospect of easy riches, that attracted the first wave of Swiss Italian migrants to the region.
Up the hill, the Mineral Spa at Peppers Springs Retreat holds the coveted Victorian Tourism Award for ‘best health and wellness tourism’. Select from a menu of treatments, including the only soft-pack treatment beds in the southern hemisphere.

Alternatively, step into another cultural realm altogether at the Shizuka Ryokan Japanese retreat, an island of tranquillity surrounded by traditional gardens. Ancient wellness treatments combine with soft tatami matting, paper shoji screens and Japanese-style guest rooms.

Set in a heritage building in the heart of town, Daylesford Day Spa is dedicated to providing the perfect environment for relaxation, rejuvenation and wellness. A place where cosy open fires warm the treatment rooms in winter. For an adventurous treat, visit Acqua Viva, dubbed ‘One of the top 5 day spas in Australia’ by Australian Woman’s Day.

For a deliciously decadent treatment, try the chocolate body wrap which envelopes you in thick sweet chocolate.

Settle into a mineral tub at Salus located within the Lake House. This award-winning spa features individual wooden bathhouses in lush gardens surrounded by waterfall-fed streams. Sit submerged in bubbling hot water, fragrant with aromatherapy salts, and gaze across the serene waters of Lake Daylesford.

Any more relaxing and you’ll be doing next to nothing.

Amazing But True.

Of the 110 known mineral springs found across the entire state of Victoria, a grand total of 72 springs are located in and around Daylesford and Hepburn Springs.

HEALING HANDS & DAY SPAS.

Sink your body into a bubbling pool. Relax and let go, as pristine waters wash your cares away. Give yourself over to the healing hands of one of the region’s many massage therapists and allow tired muscles to release the stresses of city living.

In lovingly-preserved parkland and gardens stands the strikingly contemporary Hepburn Bathhouse and Spa complex, the epicentre of the nation’s premier spa area. With its heated pools and spas fed from natural springs bubbling up from beneath the earth, this is a fine place to begin your spa journey.

The main pavilion houses a relaxation pool and spa, while the Sanctuary boasts spa couches, aromatic steam room, and saltwater float pool. The inner sanctum of the Bathhouse Day Spa has private rooms offering massage, beauty therapies and soothing hydro-based treatments.
A FEAST FOR ALL THE SENSES.

A trip to the Daylesford and Macedon Ranges region is a sensory feast. None more so than when you pause to feast on the local produce.

Thankfully, the original Swiss Italian settlers left a legacy of vineyards, olive plantations, rambling stone farmhouses and wholesome cooking traditions for us all to draw upon.

Today, small scale farmers dedicated to sustainable practices and care for the environment grow a plethora of herbs, fruit and vegetables for local tables.

Artisan bakers deliver authentic sourdough breads fresh from wood-fired ovens.

Iconic cheeses such as Meredith Sheep’s Milk Blue and Holy Goat have cult followings.

Cosseted cuts of meat are in plentiful supply too, from Shropshire lambs, Wessex Saddleback pigs and prize-winning Wagyu beef.

Istra Smallgoods cure their aged pork products using traditional Southern European curing techniques and sell their delicious product direct from their Musk farm.

Hardwick’s in Kyneton is renowned for their quality beef and lamb. Red meat aficionados can even witness livestock selection, meat processing, carcass grading and butchering on a special tour during the annual food and wine festival.

There’s no shortage of fresh fish either, from Loddon Valley Cod to succulent Tuki Springs trout and local yabbies. Throughout the region, organic practices are alive and living, as exemplified by dedicated growers the likes of Daylesford Organics, Mount Franklin Organics, Black Forest Organics and Angelica Organic Farm.

Liquid gold can still be found in a variety of forms. Premium olive oil under the Kyneton Olive Oil label. Organic flaxseed oil and Jojoba oil from Stoney Creek Farm. Along with pure gold from boutique honey makers JC Bee Honey and Des O’Toole and family.

The area is spoilt for master chocolatiers too with the Chocolate Mill, Sweet Decadence and Cocoa Chy, or Widow Twankeys Confectionery Emporium, all vying to delight your sweet tooth.

Devour the Tasty Little Touring Map and discover all the regions’ hidden foodie delights. Free from the Visitor Information Centres throughout the region.
WHERE WATER TURNS INTO WINE.

You don’t have to be a wine buff to enjoy your time here, but it helps. The map is literally dotted with wineries. Over 50 different wineries in all, many with cellar doors and all with something to offer the discerning palate.

Join a winery tour or head out on your own voyage of discovery. You’ll soon be rewarded with a cache of earthy and ethereal reds, and fragrant, elegant whites, from the awarded and famous to the undiscovered and unsung.

The Macedon Ranges is renowned as the grape-growing region in Victoria with the coolest climate. So conducive to fine sparkling varieties that a glass of ‘Macedon Sparkling’ has entered the lexicon.

The cool climate is ideal for growing Pinot Noir of impeccable varietal character.

The same is true of the large number of Chardonnays produced here. Elegant and lightly structured, with some showing distinctive mineral flavours.

Aromatic grape varieties grow well in the cooler areas around Lancefield and Romsey. Popular varieties include Gewurztraminer, Riesling, Pinot Gris/Grigio, Sauvignon Blanc and Semillon.

Every cellar door you visit is an opportunity to meet the mind behind the wine. And often the winemakers themselves will pour your tasting glass.

A splendid mixed dozen.

ON THE SHORES OF LAKE DAYLESFORD — A celebration of the best

Lake House, the iconic small luxury hotel with heart and soul, is set amongst six acres of lakeshore country gardens and serviced by a team of true industry professionals. Individually appointed, newly refurbished rooms and suites feature artwork from resident artist Allan Wolf-Tasker’s on-site studio.

In Spring & Summer, savvy world travelers flock to the hotel and its multi award winning restaurant, enjoying long lunches on the waterfront terraces or cocktails at dusk, before a seasonal tasting menu from Executive Chef & owner Alla Wolf-Tasker’s kitchen.

In Autumn & Winter guests gather by open fires over local cool climate reds and cognacs to swap travel stories.

In the splendid Salus Spa, blissful therapies range from hot mineral water spas in private treetop cabins to hot stone massage, advanced performance facials and body cocoons. Just 5 minutes walk from the bustling village of Daylesford and with immediate access to the lake shore and Wombat Forest beyond – the tranquil location, lush gardens, artful elegance and wonderful food, wine and ambience, captivate, soothe and refresh.

Visit www.lakehouse.com.au for information on packages, cooking classes, events, sumptuous weddings and corporate retreats.
SLEEP WITH THE STARS TONIGHT.

For a little first class pampering with stars all the way up to five, you can’t go past the accommodation found throughout this region.

Places like Villa Parma have aged so gracefully they look better today than ever. Mellowed with time, treated with loving care and set in immaculately manicured ornamental gardens.

Peppers Springs Retreat and Mineral Spa combines lavish accommodation with state-of-the-art spa therapies in a serene and spacious setting. The award winning Shizuka Ryokan brings the grace of an authentic Japanese guesthouse and health retreat to the area.

The penthouse suites at the Convent Gallery exude a secret, sacred ambiance with views across the Convent gardens. The Novotel Forest Resort in Creswick overlooks the resort’s lagoon-dotted golf course and is the perfect conference venue.

The traditional stone cottages at Tuki Retreat are flanked by stonewalls, landscaped gardens and face onto a private lake with picture postcard views of undulating farmland.

Experience the grandeur of a night at one of Kyneton’s historic and significant buildings. Mollisons offers contemporary styled apartments and suites while Circa 1860, furnished with French and Australian antiques, emanates warmth and class.

Exclusive establishments like Hepburn at Hepburn, and the newly opened Retreat at Lake House, continue to resonate with reputation and accolades.

And the enterprising duo of Frangos & Frangos will soon open their own fabulous hotel with its grand entrance fronting onto the action of Vincent Street.

Beyond these better-known and more famous names, is a wealth of options waiting to be discovered and enjoyed, from self catering cottages to quaint bed and breakfasts. Leaving you spoilt for choice and pampered to the core.

WELCOME TO THE STREET OF HATS.

In the Gold Rush era, Kyneton was a major supply town for the diggings. Now the drawcard is the town’s culinary riches. Historic Piper Street in Kyneton is reputedly the most hatted street in country Australia.

Enjoy awarded establishments with all the starched linen trimmings, such as the coveted Annie Smithers Bistrot or the Royal George Hotel. Set your sights on an exotic Middle Eastern love affair just across the road at Mr Carsisi, named after Istanbul’s spice bazaar, or indulge in your favourite flavours and be dazzled by the stars in the kitchen at Star Anise.

Explore nineteenth century streets lined with bluestone architecture. Pick up a piece of history at a local antique shop or gallery, or discover more about the region at Kyneton Museum.

Make the most of Kyneton’s vantage point on the Campaspe River. Pack a picnic hamper with local bounty from the well stocked pantry of Monsieur Pierre on Mollison Street or a home-made hamper of gourmet delights from Piper Street Food Co. and relax by the river or in the historic botanic gardens. Celebrate the region’s abundance of natural mineral springs and fill your flask from the pump at the Kyneton Mineral Springs.

SLOW DOWN
Macedon Approaching.

Poised at Melbourne’s doorstep, the Macedon Ranges is a picturesque region of fertile river valleys, rolling hills and tree-clad ranges. All woven together by delightful towns and villages – each a thriving community with its own artistic, historic and culinary heritage.

Covering 2427 hectares and once dubbed the ‘lungs of Melbourne’ the Macedon Regional Park is a wonderland of towering mountain ash, lush fernery, abundant wildlife and over 150 species of birds.

Mount Macedon draws the eye from every corner of the region. Up close it’s a play of contrasts, where manicured gardens meet untamed bushland.

At the summit, the views from the Memorial Cross traverse the entire southern plain to the waters of Port Philip Bay and beyond. A view so breathtaking, even locals return to it time and again.

In times past, Mount Macedon was the summer retreat of Melbourne’s elite, a leafy oasis to escape the sweltering city heat in grand style.

Today Mount Macedon is a place to slow down and let the crisp, fresh country air wash over you.

As you follow the boulevard that winds its way to the mountain top, magnificent mansions can still be glimpsed through imposing gateways, set in exotic European gardens that change with the seasons.

Today, nurseries displaying a lavish array of plant life thrive in the clear mountain air. The eclectic shops and eateries of Macedon village continue to evoke the style and grace of glories past. While a few small galleries present original works of local pottery, silk, painting and sculpture.

Open for inspection.

Many of Mount Macedon’s immaculately-preserved garden estates are open for inspection during the Open Gardens season. Your opportunity to take a peek behind fences.

Discover hidden gardens at opengarden.org.au
Rupertswood (c1870), a glorious Italianate mansion, is the famed birthplace of the Ashes, home to much significant cricket memorabilia.

To the south east is Moorabool, a striking landscape abundant in breathtakingly diverse parks and gardens, serviced by historic villages and home to many vibrant and unique communities.

The majestic Avenue of Honour at Bacchus Marsh welcomes you right into the heart of the orchards. Browse farm gate stalls laden with just picked produce or grab a punnet and pick your own berries. Knock on a cellar door and select a few bottles of award winning wine to share once you reach your destination.

A large proportion of this area is National Park, State Park, or protected nature reserve, with a myriad of walking and cycling trails to explore. Break the drive and stretch your legs in the spectacular surroundings of Wernbee Gorge, Lerderderg Gorge and the Long Forest Nature Reserve, unwind at Lal Lal Falls or explore the beautiful wildflower filled Brisbane Ranges.

Other significant towns include Ballan, first settled in the 1830s, and well noted for its historically important buildings. Charming Gordon, enroute to Ballarat is another quiet and historic village, known for its unique attractions, and beautiful Blackwood in the Great Dividing Range is home to The Garden of St Erth, a favoured destination for green thumbed visitors with a passion for gardening.

TAKE YOUR TIME ON THE ROADS LESS TRAVELLED.

En route to the heart of the Daylesford and Macedon Ranges region, you might travel through either Hume or Moorabool Shires. Slow down and discover the surprising secrets the gateways to the region hold.

Just 15 kilometres from Melbourne Airport, Sunbury is home to magnificent historical architecture, lively music festivals and events, and is fast becoming a noted travel destination in its own right.

Local vignerons have been producing award winning wines since the 1860s. Many still produce in the weatherworn bluestone buildings and cellars of yesteryear.

Sporting history is alive and kicking with some of Australia’s most celebrated retired racehorses at Living Legends at Woodlands Historic Park. Visit Emu Bottom, Victoria’s oldest homestead (c1836).
AUSTRALIA’S OTHER FAMOUS ROCK.

Six million years in the making, veiled in myth and mystery courtesy of the famous novel and film, Hanging Rock, with its natural amphitheatre, soaring rock sculpture and hauntingly beautiful stands of gums and ancient ferns, is a magical place to visit.

Originally named Mount Diogenes, it was a refuge for bushrangers during the Gold Rush era. Hanging Rock is now a refuge for more peaceable residents, including kangaroos, koalas, echidnas and an array of colourful bird life.

A walk around Hanging Rock affords spectacular views across sweeping rural landscapes dotted with granite boulders and rows upon rows of award winning vines.

The natural amphitheatre creates a stunning setting for a world-class outdoor concert or cinema under starry skies, and is also the backdrop to one of the state’s most exuberant country horse races. Once a year the reserve is filled with vintage vehicles for the ultimate car lovers’ paradise. And rumour has it, Hanging Rock is also a legendary spot for a picnic. It is accessible 364 days a year.

The gateway to the rock is Woodend, a graciously modern rural village. Set under wide verandas along the boulevard of High Street are cosmopolitan cafes, cosy pubs, quirky bookstores and a lively mix of old and new wares for all tastes.

Gourmet offerings range from the award winning vanilla slices at Bourke’s Bakehouse to an intimate dinner menu complemented by local wines. Campaspe Country House is one such mecca of hospitality: a 1920s heritage manor set among delightful Edna Walling designed gardens and natural bushland.

THE TALLEST FALLS
IN THE GARDEN STATE.

Don’t miss the prized little village of Trentham, surrounded on three sides by the tall timbers and lush fernery of the Wombat State Forest. Trentham is home to Victoria’s highest single-drop waterfall, plunging 32 metres over basalt columns formed five million years ago.

Despite a steady influx of refugees from fast-paced city living, the main street of Trentham has retained - even enhanced - its simple old world charm. At the same time, a handful of new arrivals have seen the town undergo a culinary transformation in recent years.

Chill out in the laid-back cafe and cool summer courtyard of the Red Beard Bakery, where handmade organic sourdough bread is baked by ruddy-cheeked bakers in an 140 year old wood-fired Scotch oven.

Or settle back for a lazy afternoon under the canopy of century-old elms at the revived Cosmopolitan Hotel. Wander picturesque pathways through an acre of heritage garden or retreat to the wood panelled Cosmo Stables for superb local food and wine.

Water falls...

At approximately one metre per second, it takes a drop of water just over 30 seconds to complete the 32 metre drop at the Trentham Falls. It makes a wonderfully mesmerising sight for those standing at the bottom.

STREETSCAPES
OUT OF THE 1800s

Drop into the historic town of Clunes, where gold was first discovered in Victoria. Here, the shopfronts have lost none of the patina of ages past and the streets are still wide enough to circle a horse and buggy.

Explore dusty antique and collectable stores along wide flagstone pavements. Shelter under ancient street awnings, or seek the shade of majestic European trees planted by first settlers. Nearby Creswick has a way of making heritage last too. Built on the proceeds of gold mined from the 1850s, the town still displays many excellent examples of the grand architecture of the era. Making its wide heritage streetscapes a popular film location.

A stroll along Kynetons’ footpaths transports you back to a more gracious era past rows of terraces and fine old public buildings.

Originally a bustling service centre for gold diggers and prospectors, modern-day Malmsbury still retains the spirit of yesteryear, with many National Trust buildings gracing the town’s expansive streetscape.

The Malmsbury viaduct is a pleasure to behold. Its five stone arches elegantly span the Coliban river, forming a postcard backdrop to the town’s Botanical gardens.

And if you like your architecture gracefully aged, don’t miss the state’s oldest homestead: Emu Bottom, circa 1836 at historic Sunbury.
THE MOST BEAUTIFUL PLACE ON EARTH.

At Blackwood, the tall timbers of the Wombat State Forest and the Lerderderg State Park provide a pristine backdrop to this historic hilltop village. A haven for bushwalkers, Blackwood is a place to don walking boots and explore the startling depths of the Lerderderg Gorge.

Here, the Lerderderg River has carved a 300 metre deep gorge through sandstone and slate, creating a breathtaking landscape and unearthing 500 million years of geological history.

Equally enchanting, yet somewhat more restrained, is the Garden of St Erth. Wander through an historic sandstone homestead set amid magical gardens, orchards and natural bush.

The gardens feature an extraordinary range of trees, plants and flowers gathered from around the world, a feast of rare perennials and multi-hued blooms. The bush garden plays host to a variety of native birds, as well as providing a perfect place for restful contemplation.

St Erth is also a garden of plenty, with food plants, trellised heirloom fruit trees and a permaculture-style food forest. A veritable Garden of Eden, complete with an in-house cafe to quench your thirst.

A lakeside cottage lit by scented candles and a blazing log fire. A soothing spring-water spa perfumed with essential oils. A delicious dinner of freshly caught trout. An appetising breakfast of free range eggs and homemade lamb sausages.

And everywhere the gentle, calming embrace of Tuki tranquility.
OUT AND ABOUT.

Using any of the villages in the region as your base, exploring the gems of this accessible and diverse region is a breeze. Tear yourself away for a few hours and both a new and an old world opens up to you.

Head up to Mount Macedon for quaint food stores, impressive nurseries and imposing mansions set among exotic gardens and native forests. Explore the scenic majesty of the 2,427ha Macedon Regional Park, then drive on to the bewitching Hanging Rock Reserve.

Be charmed by the gracious streets of Woodend and its magnificent old world garden estates.

Continue through wooded countryside to Lancefield. A classic Victorian farming town of fine gardens and a monthly farmer’s market. Follow the Bourke and Wills Track as it winds past the Cobaw State Forest and some of the region’s best boutique wineries.

Browse the wares and chat to the locals at the monthly Gisborne Olde Time Market. Take time out to explore the elm-lined main street of Romsey. Then onto Riddells Creek, home to two historic railway bridges and the sparkling little creek that is its namesake.

Stop at Kyneton and explore streets lined with 19th Century buildings crafted in bluestone. Wind your way into Malmsbury with its old steam mill, iconic viaduct and one of the earliest regional botanic gardens in Australia.

Don’t miss the prized little village of Trentham with its nearby falls, snug on the fringes of the Wombat State Forest.

Make a stop at Creswick, the last bastion of an age-old craft with the only remaining woollen mill of its type in Australia.

Watch the local craftspeople create fine garments from merino wool, cashmere and alpaca fleeces.

Follow scenic country roads to the picture postcard setting of Birch’s Creek at Smeaton. Here you’ll find Anderson’s Mill, a National Trust classified five-storey bluestone building in such mint condition, it doesn’t look a day over one hundred.
After rain, both Sailors Falls and nearby Trentham Falls are impressive. Or for a taste of the fire and power of yesteryear, wander around Mount Franklin, climb the rim of the extinct volcanic crater to the peak. From the summit count the other ancient volcanoes dotting the plains below.

To the east, the Macedon Ranges offer a more mountainous terrain, and there are many challenging trails throughout the Macedon Ranges Regional Park to tackle. The 30 kilometre circuit, Macedon Ranges Walking Trail, links Camels Hump and Mount Towrong and the villages of Mount Macedon and Macedon.

The ancient surrounds are also home to two spectacular gorges. Both Werribee and Lerderderg Gorges are imposing in stature and offer both easy and challenging hikes.

The Werribee Gorge State Park has many unique geological features, including the gorge and river itself, swimming holes, spectacular views and rugged terrain.

Closer to Woodend, there are three nature trails winding through native bushland at Hanging Rock Reserve. And a great way to walk off a long Kyneton lunch is the Campaspe River Walk - a scenic walk along the picturesque riverside.

Wherever you choose to explore, you’ll find places of unusual power and beauty.

And at the end of the day, nothing tops a walk on the wild side like a night on the town, with all the creature comforts.

A WALK ON THE WILD SIDE.

Once you land in the region, you’re literally surrounded by nature walks and trails. So if you’re up for it, remember to pack your hiking boots and perhaps throw in your mountain bike.

Let’s set off at a somewhat sedate pace around some of the area’s magical mineral springs. Mineral water has been bottled here since the 1850s. And part of the restorative regime is to sample the waters from hand-pumps located throughout the regions’ parks and woodlands.

Each mineral spring has its own distinctive taste and beneficial combination of micro-nutrients. Each is free for you to taste and bottle. Ample refreshed, take the trail that extends beyond Hepburn Springs Reserve and survey the surroundings from the lookout tower above.

Visit Tipperary Springs, cross the creek and explore meandering bush tracks linking Lake Daylesford to the Springs Reserve. These tracks are all part of the 300 km long Goldfields Track that connects the two great gold rush towns, Ballarat and Bendigo. Regarded as the gold standard for hikers and mountain bikers, the track is a perfect way to reconnect with nature.

Head down to the Hepburn Blowhole and watch icy water thunder through a tunnel cut into the cliff face, then take a cooling dip in the pristine swimming hole that it feeds. The deep spring-fed waters of Lake Jubilee is another local swimming, canoeing and picnic favourite, idyllically fringed with willow trees and water lilies.

A CALENDAR FESTOONED WITH FESTIVALS.

The regional calendar is full to bursting with festivals throughout the year. On any given weekend there could be a wood chop or a tractor pull happening, but the majority of festivals in the region have evolved to become sophisticated celebrations showcasing culture, the arts, seasons and produce. From music to lavender, horse racing to olive oil, diarise a festival and immerse yourself in village life.

The first weekend in May head Back to Booktown at Clunes and partake in literary paradise. Discover rare books, take a workshop and be inspired by readings from great authors. Bathe in a sea of golden daffodils at the Kyneton Daffodil and Arts Festival in September. In November salute the sweet arrival of berry and cherry season at the Bacchus Marsh Strawberry & Cherry weekend. Or raise a glass at Macedon Ranges Vignerons’ Budburst Festival and celebrate a new vintage and the best of the Macedon Ranges. New Year’s Day the tradition continues with ladies’ gumboot throwing, and mineral water skolling at the annual Glenlyon Mixed Sports Day.

March welcomes the return of ChillOut, the biggest queer pride event in regional Australia, a celebration of diversity and community, featuring carnivals, dance parties, parades, and everything under the rainbow.

WHERE SUNDAY MARKETS EXTEND TO SATURDAY.

Locals and visitors alike descend on the many markets held weekly throughout the regions’ villages. Discover bustling Farmers’ Markets; meander past trestle tables laden with the new harvest, sample cheeses and gourmet delights from artisan providores. Indulge your tastebuds and nourish your body with the finest produce, nurtured and grown in lush volcanic soils, enriched with minerals from precious waters bubbling beneath. Or if you’re travelling during the week, take a chance on a quiet road and you’ll happen across farm gate stalls, savour seasonal delicacies for just a few coins; fat chestnuts, heirloom vegetables, eggs and perfect blooms.

Artist and Makers’ Markets held monthly, showcase the uniquely beautiful work created by the regions’ creative communities. Discover a masterpiece from a local artist, enhance your wardrobe with a hat or a fragile felted scarf. Expect to be awed by the artists’ passion and supreme craftsmanship.

Vintage villages offer up their retro treasures to the bowerbird within. The many second hand stalls at the regions’ markets evoke memories of Grandma’s kitchen and Pa’s shed, treasured finds from another era to take to a new loving home.

It is one of life’s most ancient traditions, ‘going to market’ in the Villages is also one of life’s great pleasures.

For a full list of markets see page 77.
A MECCA FOR ARTISTS AND ART LOVERS.

For over a century, artists have been inspired by the picturesque environs of Daylesford and the Macedon Ranges. Perhaps it’s the depth of colour in the surroundings, afforded by the vibrancy of summer sunlight, and muted mood of the cooler months that inspires? Perhaps it’s the volcanic vistas, forested gullies and that ever-changing sky? Or perhaps it’s just the great coffee? Whatever it is, globally, the region is recognised and embraced as an epicentre of creativity. Many have relocated to set up studio here, and immerse themselves in the culture that enables them to produce works of impressive calibre and international importance.

There are numerous galleries and studios dotted throughout the region. Visit The Convent Gallery, Stony Creek Gallery, Clayfire, Red Pepper, Pantechnicon, and David Bromley’s A Day On Earth in Daylesford. Explore Tin Shed Arts and Woodbine in Malmsbury, Mad Gallery in Lancefield, Kyneton’s Stockroom; Lauriston Press; John Lloyd Gallery; Emporium on Piper. Travel up to Mount Macedon for a diverse array of collectibles from various artists at The Gallery, or venture over to Russell Petherbridge in Yandoit, just to whet your creative appetite.

Notable photographers, sculptors, textile and glass artists, painters, illustrators, printmakers and ceramicists work and exhibit locally, and their works are available for purchase through their respective galleries and online.

With luck, you might bump into your favourite artist at their local cafe, or even better, working on a new masterpiece in their studio.
BE IN ON THE SECRET…

Iconic local business identities love to indulge their visitors as well… here are some of their favourite places and secret spots.

1. Kim Whitehouse
Hepburn Bath House
The Goldfields Track is a secret I share with my friends, it takes in the best of the forest from Creswick to Hepburn.

2. Patrick & Anne Baird
Escapes Daylesford
Dinner at The Radio Springs Hotel, Lyonville - an amazing rustic setting with great local music. Followed by late night jazz at Horvats Wine Bar, Daylesford.

3. John Ellis
Hanging Rock Winery
There are a couple of wonderful cafes in Woodend; Cafe Colenso and The Village Larder are favourites of ours.

4. Jim Frangos
Frangos & Frangos
I always recommend a slow drive around the entire loop of elms on Wombat Hill. Any weather it’s perfect!

5. Rob & Jan Jones
Tuki Trout Farm
Our little treasure is Breakfast & Beer in Daylesford, it’s a great place for breakfast and to relax with friends.

6. Wayne Cross & Chris Malden
Spa Country
We treasure lounging over coffee and handmade chocolates in the Main Street of Clunes, it’s such a quaint village.

7. Carol White
Lavandula
My little secrets are Bluebell Cottage deep in the forest, and Verna Baker’s field of daffodils and nearby Henderson’s Springs.

8. Alla Wolf Tasker
Lake House
Make sure you follow the Tasty Little Touring Map down country lanes and visit some of the regions wonderful vignerons, producers and cooks.

9. Boaz Herszfeld
Creswick Woollen Mills
We love to take friends and family to Tuki trout farm for a special day out.

10. David Edelman
Hepburn at Hepburn
After a swim at the Bathhouse I love the 45 minute walk through the Hepburn Mineral Springs Reserve to the historic Hepburn Pool, my old swimming spot from the 1950s.

11. Michael Daviss
Novotel Forest Resort Creswick
I love to drop into the Dulcinea Vineyard and sample some great locally produced wine!

12. Tina Banitska
The Convent Daylesford
Drive through the countryside and ruins of Yandoit, it’s a truly emotional and uplifting experience, a gentle reminder of our Swiss Italian Heritage.

13. Andrea Holmes & Angela Hayley
Daylesford Day Spa
We love the Farmers’ Market, then Captains Creek Organic Winery to meet the grower, taste, and take home fresh organic produce and wine.

★★★★
There's nothing like a country drive to get a real feel for the region and what it has to offer. Whether you're heading away for a few days, or want a day trip with a difference, try one of these drive experiences and sample our beautiful and fascinating country life.

Visit farm gates for fresh produce along the way, stop at a village for lunch, sample fine wine at one of the many cellar doors and immerse yourself in the scenery and warmth of village life.

For directions or for more information on scenic drives in and around the region, go to visitvictoria.com/daylesford and click on ‘touring routes and itineraries’.

Pack a picnic with local produce and wine from Daylesford, Kyneton or any of the other villages along the way then head to your own ‘Picnic at Hanging Rock’.

For original 1800s streetscapes a visit to the historic gold mining village of Clunes is a must. Drive through quaint villages as you make your way through the rolling hills.

Pack a picnic with local produce and wine from Daylesford, Kyneton or any of the other villages along the way then head to your own ‘Picnic at Hanging Rock’.

Experience the best the region has to offer on your weekend away. This loop drive reveals beautiful and dramatic scenery by travelling to the region in one direction and returning via the other.
